A Rhetoric of Doing

L. Kinneavy's firm belief in the vital relationship between theory and practice, his commitment to a spirit of accommodation and assimilation that promotes the development of ever more powerful theories and ever more useful practices. A thorough introduction provides the reader with clear summaries of the essays by leading-edge theorists, researchers, and teachers of writing and rhetoric. A "field context" for the ideas presented in this book is provided through the division of the various chapters into four major sections that focus on classical rhetoric and rhetorical theory in historical contexts; on dimensions of discourse theory, aspects of discourse communities, and the sorts of knowledge people access and use in producing written texts; on writing in school-related contexts; and on several dimensions of nonacademic writing. A fifth section contains a bibliographic survey and an appreciation of James Kinneavy's work. The exceptional range of these essays makes A Rhetoric of Doing an ecumenical examination of the current state of mind in rhetoric and written communication, a survey and description of what discourse and those in the field of discourse are, in fact, doing.

The Reflexive Teaching Artist Kathryn Dawson
2014-10-01 The Reflexive Teaching Artist invites Teaching Artists at all levels of experience to consider the power of reflective practice.
Kathryn Dawson and
Daniel A. Kelin, II
offer a reflective
framework – a series of
foundational concepts,
including
intentionality, quality,
artistic perspective,
assessment, and praxis – illuminated through reflexive case-study
examples from Teaching Artists in a wide range of settings. The authors write from the dual perspectives of artist
and educator to raise fundamental questions
about the complex
intentions,
relationships and
function of the teaching artist in school,

community, and
professional theatre
settings. Through questions, guided reflection activities,
collected wisdom from
the field, and an introductory action-
research model, Dawson, Kelin and their contributors closely
examine the practice of teaching in, through,
and about drama and
theatre.
